WELCOME ACQUISITION.

The Manatee River Journal, edited and owned by Hon. Joseph H. Humphries, senator-elect from the district composed of DeSoto and Manatee counties, ever in the lead in matters progressive, has added a social department to its always interesting pages.

This new department will be edited by Mrs. J. H. Humphries, the lovely and accomplished wife of Senator Humphries. Mrs. Humphries is not by any means a novice, for, since she went as a bride to Bradenton a dozen years ago, she has truly been "a helpmeet to her husband," in the highest sense of that phrase. On occasions during the "chiefs" temporary absence she has so ably conducted the Journal that its readers "never knew the difference" but for the absence of political leaders.

Well bred, tolerant, intellectual and socially popular, Mrs. Humphries honors the increasing list of able social writers for the Florida press, and the editor of the social department of The Pensacola Journal hastens to welcome her old friend of the social department of the Manatee Journal, and to congratulate Bradenton's delightful society, and the charming people of all that beautiful section of Fair Florida upon securing so accomplished and fair-minded a reflection of their social life.

THE VALENTINE WAY.

Something new and something old—Something warm and something cold—Maidens love should wear to-day, Who would—"Cupid hasten"—pray.

Dan's a naughty boy, though true, And he'll wry be of you If by chance you should betray That you're waiting by the way.

So, be chary of your kiss,— Free with smiles—they're heaven's bliss To the naughty, roguish boy On whom kisses soon will cloy.

Open your eyes, close your heart—"Mum's" the word till the right dart From out his quiver is drawn— Then succumb. You'll see Dan fawn.

THE NOMADS.

The Nomads were guests of Miss

Julia Yonge, Monday evening and had a delightful program.

Mrs. Fred O. Howe's paper on "The House of Anjou," and Mrs. Mallory Kennedy's on "Thomas a' Becket" were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. C. F. Zeek gave a charming talk on "Fair Rosamond," followed by an interesting discussion.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Mellen.

Miss Mamie Merritt entertains to-night with "Hearts" in honor of St. Valentine.

Miss Snyder entertains her section of the Sixth grade in Public School No. 1, with a Valentine party this evening.

Miss Vera McDavid will be the charming young hostess of a Valentine party to-night.

The Country Club dance to-morrow night is being pleasantly anticipated and promises to be a great success.

Mrs. William S. Keyser will enter with a chafing dish party Thursday night.

Rev. W. Q. Vreeland spent Thursday in the city so quietly that some of his friends accuse him of being here to select a Valentine.

Mr. E. Meag Wilson left Monday noon for Washington where he will be the guest of his sister. Mrs. Wilson will join him if the weather moderates in time.

Miss Julia Hahn, of Cottage Hill, and her guest, Miss Minnie Morton, of Lisbon, Ia., are the charming guests of Mrs. W. L. Hahn, 801 East Strong.

Between the weather and the heavy colds that have so generally prevailed, society has been in a state of inertia bordering on one of those dead calms that usually precede a whirl. A number of delightful affairs arranged for the brides and some of the fair visitors, have been postponed till more auspicious weather.

The strangers was a "gem." The rank of Knight was conferred upon two candidates, the ceremonies being conducted in the usual impressive style of the order. The visiting brethren, J. W. Flowers and Jas. Bronson, of Farmersburg, Ind., and R. A. McClue of Gibson City, Ill., in short addresses testified to the appreciation they felt in the warm welcome extended them both to the lodge rooms and in the city generally.

The week just closed, taking it all in, should serve as an incentive to more active and harder work by the different members, as it proves conclusively that a little push in the right direction will work wonders in lodge matters as well as other interests.

Again, a reminder regarding to-night's convention, the grand joint celebration of all the K. of P. lodges at Castle Hall. The program will consist of initiatory work, addresses, etc., and to crown it all an elegant supper will be served, under the auspices of Rathbone Sisters, Magnolia Temple No. 4.

All lodge members of the city and visitors from out of town lodges are most cordially invited and are promised an evening of rare enjoyment.

First District Meeting To-Night.

D. D. G. C., Thos. F. Wrighton, has issued a call for a Pythian district meeting, to be held in the Castle Hall, Pensacola, Tuesday, February 14, at 8 o'clock. All lodges in the First District have been duly notified to attend. A very attractive program has been arranged by the committee. Prominent Pythians will address the meeting, and all preparations have been made for a fraternal gathering. Refreshments will be served by the Rathbone Sisters. Brethren, don't fail to be on hand.

A most cordial invitation is extended to our transient visiting brethren to be present with us upon this occasion.

HENRY HORSLER, Secretary.

How He Evaded the Suicide Law.

Lord Chief Justice Hankford of England, who lived in a former century, notwithstanding his high position became so tired of life that he determined to shuffle off this mortal coil. But he feared to commit suicide, because at the time a verdict of felony followed as a matter of course and the body of the suicide was buried at four cross-roads, with a stake thrust through it. Further, he had to avert the consequences to his relatives of forfeiture of his goods, which was also one of the penalties for self destruction. He adopted a novel expedient. Several of his deer having been stolen, he gave orders to his keepers to shoot any person they met in or near the park at night who did not immediately stand when challenged. Then on a dark night he threw himself in the path of the keepers and, not answering the challenge, was shot dead on the spot. The stump of an old oak under which he fell still marks the scene of the tragedy and goes to this day by the name of Hankford's oak.

New York's Harbor Eagles.

Above the pier—close to it and together, as if for comfort—buddled a cluster of tugs, those curious, powerful, persistent little steam craft that ply back and forth and up and down, saucily and busily important, their rows of fenders trailing in the water, their black smoke billowing out behind. Often I had watched them nosing in and out among the heavier craft, nudging a great ocean liner into mid-stream and singly or together pushing or pulling some huge helpless bulk, as an ant or as two might seize and trundle a great dead bumblebee. Their power and their impudence had filled me with wonder. Viewing them now in repose, I was impressed by the fact, hitherto unconsidered, that upon almost every pilot house was a golden eagle with extended wings—a symbol of power and swiftness—and it was borne in upon me that the tug in truth is the harbor eagle, with all other craft for its prey.—Scribner's.

Trees and Rainfall.

Some persons ask if trees affect rainfall. That question is one on which foresters differ, but the large majority are satisfied they do induce rainfall. Vonmuller, Schenck and many others are emphatic in the claim that forests induce rainfall. It is certain they retain humidity to a great extent, and that alone would affect the rainfall; but the point on which all agree is the value of forests for the conservation of water, preventing floods or drought, distributing the water evenly the whole year. It is a matter of history in foreign countries that when forests have been destroyed the rainfall has been greatly lessened and more spasmodic.—T. P. Lukens in Maxwell's Talisman.

SERIOUS SHOOTING AFFRAY AT McDAVID

MORGAN NOBLES, AGED 12, IN A SERIOUS CONDITION AND TWO OTHERS PAINFULLY INJURED BY BUCKSHOT FROM GUN OF NEGRO.

Morgan Nobles, a white boy, aged about 12 years, was seriously injured between 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon while standing in front of his father's store at McDavid and two others, a white man and a negro, were painfully although not dangerously wounded. The shooting is alleged to have been done by a negro named Levi Jefferson, who fired from a building across the tracks from the store about 30 yards distant.

The particulars, as far as can be learned, are to the effect that the Nobles boy, a white man named Nelson and a negro were standing in front of the store of the father of young Nobles when the negro who did the shooting fired a load of buckshot at the negro who stood near the boy. The three who were injured were about in line, the negro being ahead, and when the charge was fired one of the bullets took effect in the little fellow's abdomen, inflicting a wound that may prove fatal. The others were struck in the legs and the wounds, though painful, are not considered dangerous.

Soon after the shooting a hurry call was sent to Pensacola for a physician and after his arrival the wounds were dressed and the Nobles boy brought to Pensacola where he was placed in the hospital. His father accompanied him. Last night the condition of the little fellow was considered critical and it is hardly thought that he can recover.

The cause of the shooting could not be learned definitely, although it is said that the negro who fired the charge had some grievance against the negro at whom he fired for which he had threatened to kill him. Jefferson, the negro who did the shooting, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Brewton yesterday and brought to this city. He is now in the county jail.
